The gallery for collecting works about...

Zany Stars: creating unlikely combinations from words starting with your name's letters.

My Sequence Poem: making up a sequence and then making poems with syllable numbers in each line corresponding to the sequence

LOLmath: the math joke gallery has a permanent home - put your jokes there!

Sequence inspired poetry

By Michael Schnatter

Sequence 2,9,7,47,47,7,9,2

I look.

Thereâ€™s Matt, hiding I the upstairs hall closet.

I pace back and forth and run.

I pretend I do not see Matt. I look in the attic vent shaft. â€œNo Matt here!â€• I yell. I hear him giggle. â€œCanâ€™t find me, yells back. I go downstairs near the closet, prepared to â€œfindâ€• him. Then I trip.

I grab the banister. This means I am pressed against the wall. So I hear my step-dad. Youâ€™ve come for a meeting?â€• he asks. He sounds flustered. He obviously did not expect this. â€œRight,â€• he says.

His secretary sees me.

I thought he did, at least. He did not.
